PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Recently, as many of you have, I attended two different family oriented events (one my grandson's) in which one of the families was Jewish and the other not. These events included a birthday party and a betrothal. I have been impressed by the level of shared happiness of all the participants; parents and grandparents, aunts and uncles and cousins. I believe that the reason for the happiness of the two or more families involved is due to the manner in which the individual members have been attuned to the happiness of the participants. While many of us would hope that our children would have married within the "faith", two things occur to me. One is that a non-Jew has chosen to be linked with a Jew and the other, happiness and love occur beyond the boundaries of religion. How very sensible then is the love and acceptance we bestow on young interfaith families! Perhaps our affection and involvement can help the young couple anchor themselves in Jewish life. Surely, without caring and warmth it will not happen.

WHERE: Home of Bernice Simon-Wolfson - 32 Wadsworth Lane in Yarmouthport.

WHAT: Jewish Women and Midwifery

The facilitator will be Anne Katz Jacobson who will lead a discussion of midwives in the Bible and their revolutionary contributions to the practice of a Jewish midwife today. Also, she will discuss the necessity of a Jewish philosophy in order to have the ability to solve difficult ethical and moral dilemmas in the area of women's health/midwifery.

FILM FESTIVAL

WHAT: Annie Hall

WHEN: Sunday, Feb. 8 @ 1:00 PM

WHERE: Wellfleet Library

The first offering of the 2009 Am HaYam Film Festival is Annie Hall, starring Woody Allen and Diane Keaton. It is thought by many to be one of the best of Woody Allen's movies. It received four Oscars, including Best Picture. "It's as if Woody Allen said to himself, I'm going to throw out every rule, steal from whomever I choose – basically do what I please – to end up with something utterly, indelibly unique and personal." (Ed Zwick in a recent Newsweek). So enough already with the problems facing us as a society, come laugh and enjoy. Discussion follows.

WANTED:

We've had some interest shown in adult learning of basic prayer book Hebrew. Anyone interested in teaching one or more persons, please contact Paul Biegelson, landerbiegel@comcast.net.
